

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RedWind Consulting Advises JRC US Holdings, LLC on Purchase of 12 MW Solar Deals

JRC contracted exclusively with RedWind to identify and advise on the acquisition

Minneapolis, MN – July 01, 2014 – RedWind Consulting announces the completion of two solar projects in Massachusetts for JRC US Holdings, LLC (JRC). RedWind served as the exclusive financial advisor to JRC for this transaction.

“RedWind’s network and access to deal flow is extensive, and proved to be invaluable,” states Jeff Jenner, Managing Partner of JRC. The projects will supply the residents of Massachusetts with 12 MWs of clean, renewable solar energy for approximately 25 years. The projects are expected to achieve commercial operation in the second quarter of 2015.

RedWind identified the acquisition target and sold a license for its financial model to JRC. After completing extensive financial modeling of the projects and providing strategic advice throughout the due diligence period, RedWind drafted the letters of intent between JRC and the developer and brought the deal to completion.

“It was very rewarding to help JRC make its first and significant investment in solar energy by leveraging our extensive industry knowledge and relationships,” states Dan Rustowicz, chief manager of RedWind Consulting. “The solar energy market is heating up with high caliber players such as JRC making substantial investments for utility scale projects.”

About RedWind Consulting:

RedWind Consulting is a renewable energy consulting firm led by a veteran renewable energy professional. The company focuses on utility scale solar and wind energy projects for the worldwide market, specializing in all aspects of consulting, advisory services, project development, expert witness testimony and identifying financing solutions. Clients include utilities, renewable energy developers, investors and landowners. For more information please visit: www.redwindconsulting.com.